

At the fire station, firefighters keep and maintain all their firefighting equipment, including: trucks, hoses, uniforms and rescue equipment. They keep everything clean and ready to be used whenever there is a fire or accident.

Firefighters can sometimes look a little scary when they are wearing all of their equipment. However, they need that equipment to help stay safe when they are fighting fires. Your hometown firefighters will show you the equipment they use and tell you what they use it for.