

For fast response, a firefighter needs to have their boots and turnout gear ready to go. Firefighters keep their gear ready to go so that they can quickly be ready to help. There is no time to prepare after a fire has already started.

